

The French Ministry of National Education offers a wide range of diplomas designed to assess skills in French as a foreign language. These diplomas cater to all different skill levels, from the early stages of learning to the most advanced stages.

These diplomas are valuable to students all throughout the course of their studies.

The DELF is available in France and all around the world. You can upgrade your level through Alliance Française network.

DELf junior DELf scolaire

A diploma for their future!

Do you have a child aged 12–18 who is studying French?

The DELF junior and DELF scolaire are diplomas issued by the French Ministry of National Education in recognition of French-language studies. These diplomas are recognized around the world.

The CIEP (Centre international d'études pédagogiques) is the public organization appointed by France's Ministry of National Education to oversee the pedagogical and administrative aspects of the examination.

The DELF junior and DELF scolaire examinations assess students at four levels (A1, A2, B1, B2), which correspond to the levels of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).

Why should your child take the DELF junior or DELF scolaire examination?

The DELF examinations are an opportunity for high school students to demonstrate their French-language skills and to be rewarded for their hard work at school. The DELF examinations are recognized around the world, and your child will receive a diploma valid for the rest of his or her life!

Beyond just personal satisfaction, the DELF represents official proof of your child's French-language skills in a way that Francophone universities, French grandes écoles, and future employers can appreciate.

How are these exams organized?

The tests are adapted to the teenage lifestyle and correspond to the interests of teens.

The subject matter deals with aspects of day-to-day life familiar to teens, like family, friends, hobbies, middle school, and high school.

Your child's French teacher will help you choose the diploma that best suits your child's skill level.

The day of the exam...

Your child will take two types of tests:

• A GROUP TEST

Oral comprehension: students answer questions related to audio documents.

Written comprehension: students answer questions related to written documents, such as articles and advertisements.

Written production: students write a letter or a message or respond to a letter.

• AN INDIVIDUAL TEST

Oral production and interaction: your child must interact with an examiner.

Each exercise that your child completes will be based on a real situation. The DELF diplomas evaluate a student's ability to communicate, both orally and verbally, with actual Francophones.

Each of the diploma's four parts is graded out of 25 points.

A total of 50 points out of 100 means your child has earned the DELF!
